

Information for Training Groups at Levi

Thank you for choosing Levi as your training venue!

Here are some important instructions and guidelines to ensure a successful training camp for everyone.

Before Training

- Reserve sessions well in advance by sending an email to training@levi.fi.
- Always check the lane reservation list the night before for any updates or changes.
- Always use the assigned lane listed in the calendar, even if there is an empty lane nearby (any changes must be communicated in advance).
- Familiarize yourself with the general slope guidelines, especially when training with younger athletes.

During Training

- When setting up training courses please consider other trainers and slope users, as well as everyone's safety. This is particularly important at the start of the season when space is limited.
- The Ski Patrol and slope staff will provide guidance. If needed, feel free to reach out to the Training Center Coordinator.
- If you notice any areas for improvement on the slopes, please feel free to share your suggestions with the coordinator.

Please note:

- Training groups do not have priority in lift lines. Let's remember to always practice good manners.
- The ski school has priority in lift lines, and ski school groups should also be considered on the slopes, giving them adequate space.
- Backpacks, other belongings, and skis are stored outside the slope area or in designated racks. Equipment and gear should not block pathways. In the Alpine Training Park, they should be placed in front of the warm-up hut.
- Every coach and skier must wear a helmet on the slopes.
- Safety nets are available from the ski resort to help secure training areas.
- Only stop in safe, visible spots on the slopes.
- When skiing at higher speeds, keep a safe distance when overtaking others. Slow down well in advance when approaching lift lines or others on the slopes. Remember, as a race skier, you are likely more experienced, so if you encounter a recreational skier unexpectedly, please avoid them courteously and guide them to a safer area for skiing.

After Training

- Training groups are required to plow/flatten any ridges formed on the slope area due to race training at the end of each session.
- The area should be tidied up to ensure it is safe and pleasant for other guests and for the next training groups.

In restaurants and other indoor areas

- Always be mindful of other customers in restaurants and indoor spaces.
- Please avoid bringing large backpacks indoors to keep the access open.
- Remember, the restaurant is not a changing room, so please dress appropriately and behave accordingly.
- Unfortunately, consuming your own food and drinks is not permitted in slope restaurants.
- During peak hours, kindly make room for other customers once you've finished your meal

Thank you for your cooperation!
